WHO IS THE GO NEXT/OCEANIA CRUISES GUEST?

- Typically mature, recently retired, or entrepreneurial individuals with the ability to take longer vacations than the typical seven-night cruise
- Discerning travelers looking for a vacation of exceptional distinction; a move up from larger and more impersonal premium cruise lines, for example, or perhaps looking for a better dollar-value than that which is offered on some luxury lines
- Individuals who embrace multicultural experiences and value port-intensive cruises
- Those who are accustomed to and appreciate fine dining, extraordinary service, elegant surroundings, and attention to detail

LIFE ON BOARD

- Mid-size ships, with a maximum of only 684 guests (R-Class ships) or 1,250 guests (O-Class ships)
- European Officers with an international staff of 400 (R-Class) or 800 (O-Class)
- Gracious service with a guest to staff ratio of 1.7 to 1 (R-Class) or 1.56 to 1 (O-Class)
- Country club casual ambiance; tuxedos and gowns are never required
The overall feeling is one that is never stuffy and is void of pretension
- Unlimited complimentary soft drinks and bottled water
- Canyon Ranch SpaClub® is a recent addition to all ships in the fleet, and in addition to massages and treatments, includes lectures, cooking demonstrations, and Canyon Ranch cuisine options in the onboard restaurants
- Afternoon Tea "A Grand Affair" – a celebratory daily event made even grander at the Horizons lounge

CUISINE

- Finest cuisine at sea, served in four (R-Class) or six (O-Class) distinctive open-seating gourmet restaurants, all offered at no additional charge. Guests can dine where, when, and with whom they choose
- Five-star menus crafted under the watchful eye of renowned master chef Jacques Pépin, the line's Executive Culinary Director. Each dish is prepared à la minute, just as you would expect in the finest of restaurants
- Marina will also offer Jacques, the first restaurant at sea for Jacques Pépin; the Bon Appétit Culinary Center, the only hands-on cooking school at sea; La Reserve by Wine Spectator, where guests may immerse themselves in the culture and nuances of wine appreciation or indulge in a seven-course pairing dinner; and Privée, a private dining experience restricted to only 10 privileged guests each evening
- The menus on each cruise feature literally thousands of different dishes, and course after course stands as a masterpiece

SUITES AND STATEROOMS

- Staterooms and suites are all generously proportioned and beautifully decorated with traditional hardwoods, rich fabrics, and fine furnishings – every square foot has been designed for comfort and convenience
- 70% (R Class) and 96% (O Class) of suites and staterooms feature private teak verandas
- Prestige Tranquility BedsSM featuring a two-inch thick “pillow top” cushion filled with gel and wrapped in Chamomile-infused fiber, 1,000 thread-count Egyptian cotton linens, plush silk Italian Duvets, fluffy goose-down pillows, hand quilted throws, and signature chocolates with nightly turndown service
- Butler Service in Owner's, Oceania, Vista, and Penthouse Suites
- Complimentary and extensive 24-hour room service menu
- Twice-daily maid service
- French-milled toiletries

DESTINATIONS

- The itineraries are lengthier, allowing for an inordinate number of leisurely overnight stays in the most desirable destinations
- Oceania Cruises ships have the enviable means to sail to a wide variety of countries and ports, ranging from the largest metropolises to the most petite boutique destinations

PRICING

- The best prices are offered when the cruises initially go on sale and increase as sailing dates approach. For reasons of pricing integrity and simplicity, only one price is available in the market at any given time
- Book early for the best price and stateroom selection
- 2-for-1 Cruise Fares with Free Airfare from select gateways throughout the U.S.
