Once you have experienced the magnificent power of the Reversing Falls Rapids, enjoy a short drive to Place Fort La Tour, a National Historic Site of Canada, sitting at the mouth of the Saint John River. Learn the story of Charles de Saint-Etienne de La Tour, how the Fort became one of the earliest fur trade points between the French and the indigenous people, and the tragic story of his wife's defense of the Fort in his absence while under siege from his rival. Stroll the streets of lovely Havre-Saint-Pierre, an easy-to-walk village in one of the most beautiful settings on the north shore of the Saint Lawrence River. It won't take long for you to reach the heart of the village, which was settled in 1857. Fishing and logging drove the economy until the 1940s, when the world's largest deposit of ilmenite—the chief source of titanium—was discovered nearby. Although mining is now the chief industry, Havre-Saint-Pierre still celebrates its past, as you will discover walking around the compact downtown. Highlights include the House of Roland Jomphe, a former general store from the 1940s, and the village's interpretation center. The latter focuses on the area's arctic and alpine flora, unique fauna and distinctive geology. The coastal rocks are particularly strange looking, as many of them are soaring freestanding monoliths. Being seaside is a wonderful setting for Havre-Saint-Pierre, which has long been shaped by the forces of nature.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Walk around the village's compact downtown, admiring historical landmarks.

OVERVIEW
OVERVIEW Take a behind-the-scenes tour of a massive hydroelectric dam that was built in the 1960s with cutting-edge technology that revolutionized the transmission of electricity. For an overview of the Jean-Lesage Generating Station, formerly known as the Manic-2, you will watch a fascinating video that shows how the generating station was constructed. It also explains the ground-breaking technology that drives the eight turbines, each of which weighs as much as 100 elephants. Building the towering dam and the turbines within it was an enormous undertaking because the structure holds back water from two large rivers. Incredibly, the water that rushes through the spillway is double the volume that roars off Niagara Falls. It creates enough hydroelectric power to supply electricity to a city of 250,000 people – that’s more than 10 times the size of Baie Comeau. Afterwards, you will drop by Baie Comeau Manor for tea and a snack or a beer and wine tasting if you prefer.
