VLC-012 BOCAIRENT: A GLIMPSE TO THE MEDIEVAL

Date: May 16, 2024 Time: 08:30 AM

Duration: 5.50 Hrs Price: $119.00

OVERVIEW

Discover the medieval charm of Bocairent, a hilltop village built almost entirely of stone, including a bullring that was carved from solid rock in the 19th century. It took the villagers years to complete the excavation, but the bullring is still used today. Because almost every building is constructed from rock or carved into rock, Bocairent has an engaging medieval ambiance. The historic quarter is particularly atmospheric, as it was laid out in an Arabic style that reflects a Moorish influence. The streets twist and turn, rise and fall and often end in charming squares and cul-de-sacs. While sometimes challenging to negotiate, Bocairent's old quarter is visually breathtaking, especially from areas that offer panoramic views of the countryside. To enhance your appreciation of the local culture, you will visit a local artisan shop that makes regional liquors such as anise-flavored herbero from mountain flora. While tasting his concoctions, you can't help but marvel at the setting—his shop is inside a cave.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Explore Bocairent, a village built almost entirely of stone, giving it a medieval ambiance.
- Marvel at the bullring that was pickaxed and chiseled out of the solid-rock hillside.
- Meander the winding, hilly streets of Bocairent's atmospheric Old Town.
- Sample a glass of local anise-flavored herbero made with mountain flora.

VLC-GG1 ECO-FARMING & CITRUS FRUITS

Date: May 16, 2024 Time: 08:30 AM

Duration: 4.00 Hrs Price: $129.00

OVERVIEW

Enjoy a behind-the-scenes look at a citrus farm that grows fruit much like it did in the 19th century, when the farm was established. Family-owned Huerto San Eusebio grows a variety of organic fruit, including famed Valencia oranges, grapefruits, kumquats and lemons. While touring the farm with the owner, you will also likely see rarer fruits such as a multi-fingered citron known as Buddha's hand and citrus caviar, a stout finger-shaped lime native to Australia. Most of the products are sold locally to maintain freshness and to minimize the environmental impact of transporting them over long distances. No chemicals or herbicides are used and monoculture farming is avoided because it can deplete the soil's natural nutrients and endanger the crops. You will learn some of the more fascinating specifics during a tasting of fruits and citrus jams. In contrast to this traditional experience, you will pause for photos at the modernistic City of Arts and Sciences, Valencia's cultural hub.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Tour a family-owned farm that grows organic citrus using eco-friendly methods .
- Sample organic fruits and jams that taste far superior to produce grown conventionally .
- Snap photos of Valencia's most modern attraction— City of Arts and Sciences .

HELPFUL HINTS

Duration: 3.00 Hrs Price: $109.00

OVERVIEW

Join a biologist for an enlightening walk and boat cruise through Albufera National Park to see how its former rice fields were transformed into a natural reserve. Decades of harmful agricultural practices deteriorated the water quality and threatened the wildlife within the area that is now the Tancat de la Pipa reserve. The biologist will describe the transformative process and how the reserve's spring-fed waters are naturally filtered. A leisurely cruise on a boat will provide you with a different perspective of the wetlands and the chance to observe the flourishing biodiversity. You may spot black-winged stilts, crested coots, little-ringed plovers and countless migratory birds such as bee-eaters. Marsh harriers are also abundant. These raptors can be easily identified in the air by their long tails and wings, which they typically hold in a shallow “V.”

HIGHLIGHTS

- Follow a biologist through a national park, parts of which were once used for farming .
- Gain insight into how the land was transformed from rice fields into freshwater wetlands .

You will then join a hands-on workshop and learn the basics of preparing this once-humble dish from scratch. The village of meticulously preserved whitewashed buildings revolves around the sea and has become a favorite destination for sailors, windsurfers and divers. Historical attractions include a church dedicated to Saint Antoni and the ruins of several fortresses. The interior of Menorca is just as impressive, as you will discover on the way to Es Mercadal, another atmospheric whitewashed village. Its backdrop is El Toro, the island's highest point and supposedly its spiritual center. The mountain has been a pilgrimage site since the 13th century and a small church and sanctuary now sit atop the summit. After relaxing over a beverage and pastry at a bakery in Es Mercadal, you will continue south to Son Bou, the island's largest beach. As pretty as it is, the ruins of the early Christian basilica nearby may be even more noteworthy. Now enclosed by a protective wall, the stone basilica was probably constructed in the 5th century. Please note: This tour includes approximately 2.5 hours of walking. Tour not suitable for guests with limited mobility. Surfaces present inclines, cobblestones and dirt track. During the summer months, due to traffic and congestions at some sites, coach must be forced to park further away to the site and guests could be asked to walk some 10 minutes to reach the site. Guests have the option of staying on the bus if they prefer. Casual, weather-appropriate clothing and comfortable, flat walking shoes are suggested. Tour not suitable to guests with limited mobility.

Date: May 18, 2024 Time: 09:00 AM
Duration: 3.50 Hrs Price: $249.00

OVERVIEW

Experience the life of a sheep farmer and shepherd by visiting a characteristic farm that produces dairy products from highly prized Menorcan sheep. After departing from the pier, you will enjoy a scenic drive through the idyllic countryside to Son Triay (Ferrerries). Upon arriving, you will be welcomed at a family farm that tends a substantial herd of sheep. After an enlightening introduction to the family's lifestyle and the operation of the farm, you will walk into the fields where the sheep are grazing. The farm's Menorcan-bred sheep are milked to produce one of the island's few cheeses made with sheep's milk. Other cheeses usually contain lesser amounts of sheep's milk, which is then blended with raw or pasteurized cow's milk. You can taste the sea salt in Menorcan cheeses, the result of strong winds that soak the grazing fields with an ocean mist. The farmers may demonstrate how to milk sheep and shear them. Wool from Menorcan sheep has been prized for centuries, and the farmers will explain the attributes that make it so desirable. Following your immersion into shepherding and sheep farming, you will savor a tasting of farm-to-table dishes such as fresh-baked bread, cheeses, typical sausages and wine.

MAH-010 MENORCA BRITANNIA

Date: May 18, 2024 Time: 09:10 AM
Duration: 4.00 Hrs Price: $99.00

OVERVIEW

Trace the British influence on Menorca by visiting one fort that the soldiers expanded while occupying the island and then sampling gin at distillery that the British opened. After departing from the pier, you will soon arrive at Fort Marlborough, an early 18th-century fort named for the British general John Churchill, the first Duke of Marlborough. Starting in 1713, the British ruled Menorca on and off for nearly 100 years, and their influence can still be seen throughout Mahon, especially in military fortifications. While meandering around Fort Marlborough, you will learn about its construction, which features a well-concealed entry tunnel, and how the Spanish partially destroyed the fort during a siege in 1782. After the visit of the fort, you will be transferred to Es Castell: situated on the Port of Maó, it is the most British town in Spain. It was built during the 18th century by the British engineers and formally known as Georgetown (in the honor of George III of Britain). If you take a look at the street plan you will note that the streets preserve the original cross-sectioned streets reflecting its British roots and that there is a parade square together with the British barracks, with Georgian architecture featuring bow windows and typical "guillotine" windows. After a guided visit at the square, you will have some free time to visit the small fishing port. Leaving Es Castell, as further evidence of the British influence, you will visit a gin distillery that they opened in the 18th century. While touring, be sure to notice the original copper still and then enjoy a sampling of the gin.

PLEASE NOTE

This tour involves approximately 3 hours of walking, some of which will include inclines, steps, uneven and cobbled ground. It is not recommended for guests who utilize a wheelchair or suffer from claustrophobia. Those guests with mobility concerns are cautioned to evaluate their personal level of ability and stamina. Casual, weather-appropriate clothing and comfortable, flat walking shoes are suggested.

MAH-012 MENORCAN-STYLE LOBSTER

Date: May 18, 2024 Time: 10:30 AM
Duration: 5.50 Hrs Price: $289.00

OVERVIEW

OVERVIEW Dine on the signature Menorcan dish lobster stew, which originated on the island more than 100 years ago. Although most chefs have their own recipes for Caldereta de Langosta, they all revolve around the spiny lobsters caught in the surrounding waters. The venue for your culinary experience will be the restaurant Sa Llagosta in Fornells, a traditional whitewashed fishing village on the north shore. It is an appropriate setting as poor fishermen created the dish when lobsters were considered less desirable than fish. Although chef David Coca will prepare your lobster stew according to his own special recipe, it will feature a classic sofrito of tomato paste, onions and garlic as its base. A cheesecake-like flaó will be served for dessert. While traveling to and from Fornells, you will see some of Menorca's most naturally beautiful areas. They include Monte Toro, the island's highest peak, from which you will enjoy spectacular views.

Traveling by coach from the pier, you'll drive south toward the tip of Corsica. Before long you will arrive in Bonifacio, which perches high atop a promontory of chalk-white limestone that the sea has sculpted into unusual shapes. It is without doubt, a stunning setting. Upon arrival, you will hop aboard a small wheeled-train which will take you up into the medieval old town, the oldest community on Corsica. As you ride through the labyrinthine streets of the Bosco quarter, you'll see the 14th century St. Francis convent, an ancient cemetery dedicated to mariners, and St. Dominique, a church built in 1270, perhaps by the Kings Templar. On a clear day, you may even be able to catch a glimpse of the island of Sardinia off in the distance. After your brief orientation by train, you will commence a guided walking tour of the town, navigating through tiny, narrow streets that are bordered by tall houses. So many of Bonifacio's buildings and streets tell fascinating stories, such as the 12th century St. Marie Majeure Church which sits over an underground cistern that supplied water during times of siege. Emperors Napoleon Bonaparte and Charles V once stayed in houses on what is now called Two Emperors Road. The Chapel St. Roch was built on the spot where the last victim of the plague died in 1528. During your visit, you will also have some free time to further explore on your own, or shop in the old town. Perhaps pick up some of Bonifacio's coral which is renowned for its deep red color and used in much of the jewelry made locally. Please note: This tour includes nearly 90-minutes of moderate walking, plus any walking done at the guests' discretion during free time. There are cobblestone surfaces within the city and some steps to negotiate, most particularly when entering and exiting the train. After departing from the pier, you will settle in for a picturesque drive inland, across a sparsely vegetated landscape of Mediterranean macchia shrubbery punctuated by huge granite boulders. Along the way, you will pause for a photo of the Lion de Roccapina, a rock outcropping that looks like a reclining lion. Upon arriving in Bonifacio at the southern tip of Corsica, you will board a boat and cruise along the beautiful shoreline.

You can't help but marvel at the town perched high atop the promontory of chalk-white limestone. The vertical cliffs rise hundreds of feet above the sea, a natural phenomenon that inspired Bonifacio's nickname, the Citadel of Cliffs. Over the centuries, the sea has carved grottoes into the cliffs, the most famous being the magnificent Grotte Sdragonatu. A hole in the roof provides natural sunlight that enhances the water's color and creates playful shadows on the stalactites. Back in Bonifacio, you will board a small train with wheels and drive into the medieval old town. A walking tour will reveal all sorts of intriguing details, including the stories behind the buildings and streets. For instance, the Chapel St. Roch was built on the spot where the last victim of the plague died in 1528, and Emperors Napoleon Bonaparte and Charles V once stayed in houses on what is now called Two Emperors Road. Please note: This tour includes approximately 3 hours of walking. It is not available to guests who utilize a wheelchair or scooter. You will soon enter the Strait of Bonifacio, an aquamarine stretch of sea that divides French Corsica from Sardinia, its Italian neighbor to the south. Looking back toward Bonifacio, you may be surprised to see a number of extraordinary mansions and buildings constructed to the very edge of the precipitous, chalky-white limestone cliffs. This is the upper town or Haute Ville, a maze of charming alleyways that dates to the 9th century. After approximately an hour drinking in the scenery at sea, you will arrive at Lavezzi, the island that lends its name to the entire archipelago. Here, you will be free to enjoy the beach, swim in the typically calm waters, and explore the uninhabited island at your leisure. Depending on where you wander, you may see rare species of wildflowers such as the yellow-horned poppy and funnel-shaped white sea daffodil. In time, you will retrace your route by boat and then drive back to the pier. Please note: Walking on this tour is mainly at the guests' discretion during free time on Lavezzi Island. The influence of favorite son Napoleon Bonaparte is still evident in the city's many monuments, buildings and streets that bear his name. You will enter Ajaccio along Cours Napoleon, the boutique-lined main thoroughfare. A statue of Napoleon wearing a riding coat and his famed two-cornered hat is the centerpiece of Austerlitz Square, where you will stop for photos. Legend has it that Napoleon played near here in the Casone grotto as a child and pretended to be the French emperor. Continuing along the spectacular coastline, you will approach La Parata, a rocky point at the end of a peninsula that is constantly scoured by the wind and surf. The setting couldn't be more dramatic, as a centuries-old Genoese tower crowns the hilltop. The islands just offshore are called the Isles of Blood for the reddish hue they reflect into the sea. Duration: 2.00 Hrs Price: $199.00

Cruise the crystalline waters between the towns of Propriano and Campomoro, following the spectacularly scenic shore that highlights the island's natural beauty. After departing from the pier in a small boat, you will cruise along the beautiful coast just off Propriano, taking in the considerable sights. From the sea, you will enjoy a unique perspective of the city, much of which dates to the early 19th century. The Plage du Lido and Plage du Phare are among the most popular because they are easily accessible and right in town. Other more secluded stretches of sand will come into view as you cruise around the Gulf of Valinco toward the town of Campomoro. The waters off its beach are quite shallow, and you are likely to see snorkelers exploring the underwater wonders. PRP-008 FILITOSA PREHISTORICAL SITE

Date: May 23, 2024 Time: 10:00 AM

Duration: 3.50 Hrs Price: $149.00

OVERVIEW

Delve into Corsica's fascinating prehistory by exploring Filitosa, an archaeological site best known for its many monolith granite statues, whose exact purpose remains a mystery. After departing from the pier, you will settle in for a leisurely drive inland to Filitosa, an archaeological site in the Taravo Valley that offers an in-depth look into Corsica's prehistory. Excavations started in 1946 and over the following two decades a wealth of artifacts were unearthed, many of them dating back to 3,500 BC. As you wander about the open-air site, you will see extraordinary examples of carved standing stones called statue-menhirs. Many of these granite monoliths depict human shapes, swords and armor. Although archaeologists believe that the statue-menhirs were used in religious ceremonies, as symbols of fertility or as commemorative monuments to fallen warriors, the exact purpose of the stones remains a mystery. Regardless, they are magnificent, especially when viewed up close. Filitosa contains more monolithic statuary than any other archaeological site in Corsica, so there is plenty to see as you meander about the hills and fields. Most of the statue-menhirs stand about 7 to 8 feet high. You might also find remnants of others that seafaring invaders shattered into pieces to build towers and dry-stone walls to mark their conquest. Other artifacts include arrowheads made from obsidian not found on Corsica. Consequently, the original Neolithic farmers at Filitosa
