OVERVIEW

Travel between Cannes and Monaco in a classic car, following a route inspired by Grace Kelly, the glamorous actress that first came to the French Riviera to shoot the movie “To Catch a Thief” with Cary Grant. Although you can create your own itinerary, the influence of Kelly – who became the Princess of Monaco in 1956 – is still felt so it is only natural to visit her favorite spots. In Cannes, you might pass the Carlton Hotel, where she stayed while filming, and drive along the waterfront boulevard La Croisette, home to the Cannes Film Festival, during which she met her future husband, Prince Rainier. In Monaco, you could stop at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, where the couple were married and buried, and see the Prince’s Palace, their royal residence. Other possibilities include the Princess Grace Rose Garden, a tribute to her passion for flowers, and the Princess Grace Irish Library, which honors her heritage.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Create an itinerary that showcases attractions associated with Princess Grace of Monaco.
- Opt to see the Carlton Hotel in Cannes and drive along its famed boulevard La Croisette.

PLEASE NOTE

This tour is priced per car, only one guest needs to add to the reservation. This tour involves travel in a vintage, non-air-conditioned classic car with no wheelchair accessibility, and walking is at the guest’s discretion during scenic stops. Guests must be able to enter and exit low vehicles unassisted, and those with mobility concerns should carefully assess stamina due to uneven terrain, limited restroom availability, and varying ground surfaces. Public restrooms along the French Riviera are limited and may require a purchase to access, and vehicle capacity is restricted to two guests per car. OVERVIEW
GainGain an insider's understanding of the challenges in building two avant-garde landmarks by touring them with a guide. Perched along the waterfront, La Cosquer Mediterranée was designed to embody Marseille's deep bond with the sea. Instantly recognized for its prominent cantilevered overhang, this three-level public space also features a conference center with portholes beneath the sea. As you will discover, that lower floor presented all sorts of unusual circumstances that pushed the boundaries of architecture. The building faces MUCEM, a national museum devoted to Mediterranean civilizations. The concrete filigree that shields much of the structure is particularly stunning.

VLC-012 BOCAIRENT: A GLIMPSE TO THE MEDIEVAL

Date: Oct 28, 2027 Time: 09:30 AM
Duration: 5.50 Hrs Price: $129.00

OVERVIEW

Discover the medieval charm of Bocairent, a hilltop village built almost entirely of stone, including a bullring that was carved from solid rock in the 19th century. It took the villagers years to complete the excavation, but the bullring is still used today. Because almost every building is constructed from rock or carved into rock, Bocairent has an engaging medieval ambiance. The historic quarter is particularly atmospheric, as it was laid out in an Arabic style that reflects a Moorish influence. The streets twist and turn, rise and fall and often end in charming squares and cul-de-sacs. While sometimes challenging to negotiate, Bocairent's old quarter is visually breathtaking, especially from areas that offer panoramic views of the countryside. To enhance your appreciation of the local culture, you will visit a local artisan shop that makes regional liquors such as anise-flavored herbero from mountain flora. While tasting his concoctions, you can't help but marvel at the setting—his shop is inside a cave.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Explore Bocairent, a village built almost entirely of stone, giving it a medieval ambiance.
- Marvel at the bullring that was pickaxed and chiseled out of the solid-rock hillside.
- Meander the winding, hilly streets of Bocairent's atmospheric Old Town.

VLC-GG1 ECO-FARMING & CITRUS FRUITS

Date: Oct 28, 2027 Time: 09:30 AM
Duration: 4.00 Hrs Price: $139.00

OVERVIEW

Enjoy a behind-the-scenes look at a citrus farm that grows fruit much like it did in the 19th century, when the farm was established. Family-owned Huerto San Eusebio grows a variety of organic fruit, including famed Valencia oranges, grapefruits, kumquats and lemons. While touring the farm with the owner, you will also likely see rarer fruits such as a multi-fingered citron known as Buddha's hand and citrus caviar, a stout finger-shaped lime native to Australia. Most of the products are sold locally to maintain freshness and to minimize the environmental impact of transporting them over long distances. No chemicals or herbicides are used and monoculture farming is avoided because it can deplete the soil's natural nutrients and endanger the crops. You will learn some of the more fascinating specifics during a tasting of fruits and citrus jams. In contrast to this traditional experience, you will pause for photos at the modernistic City of Arts and Sciences, Valencia's cultural hub.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Tour a family-owned farm that grows organic citrus using eco-friendly methods .
- Sample organic fruits and jams that taste far superior to produce grown conventionally .
- Snap photos of Valencia's most modern attraction— City of Arts and Sciences .

Duration: 3.00 Hrs Price: $119.00

OVERVIEW

Join a biologist for an enlightening walk and boat cruise through Albufera National Park to see how its former rice fields were transformed into a natural reserve. Decades of harmful agricultural practices deteriorated the water quality and threatened the wildlife within the area that is now the Tancat de la Pipa reserve. Once the rice fields were converted to freshwater wetlands, the wildlife—particularly water birds—returned in great numbers. The biologist will describe the transformative process and how the reserve's spring-fed waters are naturally filtered. A leisurely cruise on a boat will provide you with a different perspective of the wetlands and the chance to observe the flourishing biodiversity. You may spot black-winged stilts, crested coots, little-ringed plovers and countless migratory birds such as bee-eaters. Marsh harriers are also abundant. These raptors can be easily identified in the air by their long tails and wings, which they typically hold in a shallow "V."
