Walvis Bay, Namibia

WAL-012 SANDWICH HARBOUR

Date: May 11, 2024 Time: 11:00 AM

Date: May 12, 2024 Time: 08:30 AM

Duration: 4.50 Hrs Price: $339.00

OVERVIEW

Explore the Sandwich Harbour area in a 4x4 vehicle that can negotiate vastly different, otherwise inaccessible terrains. As an introduction to the natural wonders, you will first stop at Walvis Lagoon, which attracts a remarkable variety of seabirds and thousands of pink flamingoes. The species that you see will depend on the season, as many of the birds are migratory. You will then travel south through Namib-Naukluft Park, a hauntingly beautiful arid landscape with towering sand dunes. A natural tidal lagoon rims the coast, whose sparse vegetation stabilizes the dunes, which would otherwise shift dramatically. If the tides and ocean swells permit, you will drive to the lagoon along the beach. If not, you will travel entirely across the surrounding dunes, some of which rise more than 200 feet above sea level. Either way, you can expect to see a massive number of water birds, including cormorants, terns and waders.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Ride in a 4x4 vehicle through protected natural areas that would be inaccessible otherwise.
- View a staggeringly high number of seabirds, including flamingoes in season.
- Drive along the beach that rims remote Sandwich Harbour or across the surrounding sand dunes.

HELPFUL HINTS

- Dress in weather-appropriate clothing.
- Wear flat comfortable walking shoes.

PLEASE NOTE

This tour requires a moderate amount of activity and participants should be in good physical condition. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests, guests with mobility concerns and guests who have had recent back or neck injuries.

Duration: 4.50 Hrs Price: $199.00

OVERVIEW

Cruise across Walvis Bay in a catamaran for a kayaking adventure from Pelican Point and return in a 4x4 vehicle that's ideal for negotiating the salt pans and sand dunes. While cruising, you will enjoy spectacular views of Walvis Bay and the surrounding natural areas. As you will notice even before disembarking, long slender Pelican Point is a haven for wildlife. Thousands of Cape fur seals frolic in the sea and along the coast, bottlenose and Heaviside's dolphins often breach the water's surface and seabirds are seemingly everywhere, especially pelicans, cormorants and petrels. Chances are, you will be treated to an even closer look at the bountiful marine life and wildlife while kayaking through the typically calm waters. A different sort of adventure awaits once you hop in the 4x4 vehicle and race off across the salt pans, along Donkey Bay and up into the sand dunes. The views along the way will be absolutely magnificent.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Enjoy a scenic cruise aboard a catamaran across Walvis Bay to Pelican Point.
- Kayak off Pelican Point, a thin finger of land that enormous numbers of seals and seabirds inhabit.

- Look for bottlenose and Heaviside's dolphins, often swimming right next to your kayak.
- Ride across the surrounding salt pans, along the coast and into the dunes in a 4x4 vehicle.

HELPFUL HINTS

- Dress in weather-appropriate clothing.
- Wear flat comfortable walking shoes.

PLEASE NOTE

WAL-016 MOON LANDSCAPE & WELWITSCHIA

Date: May 11, 2024 Time: 11:00 AM

Date: May 12, 2024 Time: 08:30 AM

Duration: 4.00 Hrs Price: $199.00

OVERVIEW

Marvel at a vast national park that is distinguished by massive sand dunes and otherworldly terrain during a tour of a remarkable desert environment. Settle in for an approximately 30-minute drive to Dune 7, the region's largest sand dune, and perhaps find sand-boarders and skiers zipping down its slope. Continuing on, you'll enter the Namib-Naukluft National Park, which includes part of the Namib Desert and is the country's largest nature preserve, and notice its striking rusty-hued sand dunes, whose colors vary due to the iron in the sand oxidizing to a darker shade as the dunes age. In spite of the seemingly harsh conditions, find flora and fauna thriving here, such as the raggedy welwitschia, which resembles wilted lettuce and produces only two leaves in its up to 500-year lifetime. You'll journey to Moon Landscape, a vastly eroded valley that is reminiscent of the lunar surface. Discover that even though the environment appears to be barren, it supports a complex ecosystem of lichens and shrubs subsisting on the occasional moisture provided by sea fog that rolls in from as far as 20 miles away. You'll wonder at nature's incredible adaptability during this fascinating excursion.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Stand in awe at Dune 7, a massive sand dune enjoyed by sand-boarders and skiers.
- Experience the Namib-Naukluft National Park, a striking natural preserve that includes part of the Namib Desert.
- Discern the age of a sand dune from the depth of its rust color, due to oxidation through the years.
- Wonder at the hardiness of the flora and fauna that thrive in the arid desert conditions.
- Examine the unappealing welwitschia plant, which resembles wilted lettuce and lives up to five centuries.
- Contemplate a lunar-like topography carved out by the wind at Moon Landscape.

HELPFUL HINTS

OVERVIEW

Drive through the Addo Elephant Park, an unspoiled nature reserve teeming with wildlife. Settle in for an approximately 75-minute journey north across the Swartkops River to Addo Elephant Park, a spectacular nature reserve that stands as living proof of the success of South Africa’s conservation efforts. During your approximately two-hour game drive, you’ll hear that when the park was founded in 1931, it housed a paltry population of 11 elephants, which over time has ballooned to over 450 individuals. From your coach, catch sight of the park’s namesake elephants, a somewhat smaller species of the African elephant, and notice that they are reddish rather than the more common gray. You’ll gather that they are highly intelligent creatures that communicate through vocalization, touching with their trunks and various body postures. Learn that the park’s five biomes, from grassland to montane forest, support an enormous diversity of other animals, including black rhino, lions, antelopes, spotted hyenas, zebras and warhogs as well as a wide variety of birds, including the world’s largest Cape gannet breeding population. On this unforgettable excursion, you’ll applaud the successful protection of the remarkable Addo elephant.

PTE-012 PENGUIN ISLAND CRUISE

Date: May 15, 2024 Time: 10:00 AM

Duration: 4.00 Hrs Price: $379.00

OVERVIEW

Cruise to the world’s largest colony of African penguins and look for marine life such as dolphins and whales along the way. The penguins inhabit St. Croix, a rocky island that is almost completely devoid of soil. Although the island sanctuary offers an excellent natural habitat, the penguins are in decline from environmental risks, oil spills and their eggs being pilfered for human consumption. While observing these endemic penguins, you will likely hear them braying like donkeys, which is why they are also known as jackass penguins. You may also spot bottlenose and humpback dolphins, large numbers of which frequent these waters. The island is on the migratory routes of various whales, although the Bryde’s whale lives year-round in the area. It is quite a spectacle to see one feeding, as these whales burst through a school of fish with their mouths wide open and their throat pleats extended.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Cruise to rocky St. Croix island to observe the world’s largest colony of African penguins.
- Gain an understanding of the threats to the birds and the efforts to protect them.
- Look for dolphins, whales and other marine life as you cruise to and from the island.

OVERVIEW

Paddle a canoe down the Sundays River in the shadow of the Addo Elephant National Park and observe the indigenous wildlife, especially water birds. While there is no telling what you will see, birds that have been spotted along the river include giant kingfishers, curlew sandpipers, greater flamingoes and little terns. The African fish eagle is one of the area's most regal birds, especially the adults, which closely resemble bald eagles. If you see one, be sure to scan the sky or branches nearby, as they are usually seen in pairs. After disembarking, you will walk a short distance through the bush, which is covered in native shrubbery known as fynbos. The biodiversity is extraordinary as the bush contains thousands of plant species, including the king protea, South Africa's national flower. Duration: 5.00 Hrs Price: $139.00

OVERVIEW

See firsthand how litter booms prevent trash from reaching the sea and then clean up a beach marred by rubbish from other sources. You will join a member of the eco-conscious organization Green Corridors for this enlightening experience that will begin at the Johnna Road settlement. There, simple but ingeniously effective litter booms have been installed on the waterways to collect trash that can easily be scooped off the surface for recycling. It is just one of many projects that Green Corridors has initiated to promote environmental awareness and ensure that the community enjoys clean water. A stroll along the wooden boardwalk that winds through the nearby mangrove forest will offer a close-up look at a robust ecosystem that the litter booms benefit. Keep an eye out for marine creatures such as ghost crabs that thrive in the waters. A beach clean-up at the river's mouth follows, during which you will pitch in to help protect the environment.
